How can we call someone a good citizen? It's not easy to answer a question like this; however, let's agree that if you want to be a good citizen, you have to be a good person first. A good person is someone who is aware of his rights, duties and responsibilities towards his family, his neighbors, his friends and his community in general.

I believe that there are many things that reflect your principles as a good citizen in your country. When you help people and volunteer to provide your services to them on your own free will, in this case, you are a good citizen. When you help the poor and pay money for charities and orphanages, you are a good citizen. When you follow the rules of traffic and government laws in general, you are a good citizen. A good citizen helps the old and young people. He treats them with respect and preserves the dignity of others.

A good citizen knows his rights which should never violate the rights of others. Respecting others' opinion and faith is also an important part of being a good citizen.

Citizenship is a huge responsibility and a burden on the shoulder of every faithful and selfless citizen in his country.
